

Q&A GUIDE

Manheim locations will offer sellers the opportunity to represent their vehicles on the block beginning June 8

Client Frequently Asked Questions

June 4, 2020

SELLERS ON THE BLOCK

Q: Should I notify the auction if I am planning to represent my vehicles in person?

A: Yes, please confirm your attendance with auction leadership prior to arriving on sale day. Please note that due to operating constraints, some locations may have limited seller capacity. Additionally, start dates for block accessibility may vary by location.

Q: How do I prepare for physically representing vehicles on the block?

A: Once you have confirmed your attendance with auction leadership, you must complete a Cox COVID-19 Related Access Form. You will need to show proof of your completed form as well as a valid AuctionACCESS ID upon check in. Additionally, please be sure to communicate any special requirements related to auctioneer needs in advance via phone or email.

Q: Where can I find the Cox COVID-19 Related Access Form?

A: The Cox COVID-19 Related Access Form is available online and should be completed based on state you are traveling to. Click here for details on where to locate your specific health form.

Q: Will buyers be present in the lane?

A: No, buyers will continue to bid and buy via Simulcast and will not be permitted in the lanes at this time.

Q: Will auction/personal offices, buildings, and other facilities be accessible pre and post-sale?

A: No, access to auction/personal offices and facilities is prohibited. Other areas including conference rooms, cafeteria, and tech centers will remain closed. Port-a-Potties will be available on the lot. Please note that access to paper, printers and other supplies as well as food and beverages will not be available.

Q: How long do I need to arrive at the auction in advance of my run?

A: Please plan to arrive at least 30 minutes prior to the start of your run to allow time to navigate new entry requirements and accessing the block.

Q: Where will check in be located when I arrive and what is the process?

A: There will be a single, designated entrance to access auction property from parking area. Please note that entrance flow will vary by location. Upon check in, you will be asked to show confirmation of your completed Cox COVID-19 Access Form and a valid AuctionACCESS ID. Temperature checks may be administered at select locations as local/state regulations mandate. Please be sure to follow the social distancing signage and markings once you've been checked in.

Q: How will I know when to approach the block?

A: Upon check in, you will locate your designated waiting area where a single seller will wait until their units are available for bidding and buying. Waiting areas will be available by lane. Please be sure to follow the directional signage for approaching the block.

Q: Can I walk inventory while I am at the auction representing vehicles?

A: Please check with auction leadership on auction lot accessibility following your run.

Q: Is a face covering required?

A: Yes, please be prepared to bring your own face covering and wear it for the duration of your visit.

Q: Will hand sanitizer dispensers be available?

A: Yes, hand sanitizer dispensers will be available upon entering and exiting the lanes.

Q: Is the block set up to ensure my safety?

A: In addition to wearing your face covering, we have installed Plexiglass guards which will be placed in between the seller, block clerk, and auctioneer. All parties on the block should be physically separated when possible. Please note that block clerks will be remote when possible and ringmen will not be present. The seller area of the block will be thoroughly sanitized pre and post-use. Additionally, gavels, computers, and microphones should not be shared and will be cleansed after each use.

Q: Where do I go once my sale ends?

A: Once your sale is complete, you must leave the building immediately through the designated exit area. Please note that the exit area will be a different access point from entrance.

Q: Can I hold a meeting with auction leadership once my sale is complete?

A: Auction leadership will not hold meetings post-sale. Please reach out via phone or email to discuss needs or feedback. As a reminder, access to all auction offices (including personal offices) is prohibited at this time. Arbitrations will continue to be fulfilled online at Manheim.com.

Q: How can I dispose of my PPE?

A: A designated container for disposal of PPE will be available upon exiting the lanes.

Q: What if safety measures are not followed?

A: Failure to adhere to safety policies and procedures will result in removal from the property.

